A Folly Farewell

“Super Dave’s Parking Lot Bash, Honey” to pay tribute to longtime Folly resident

by Jenny Peterson | Current Staff Writer

Folly Beach is beloved not just for its Bohemian surfer vibe, but for the unique characters that make up the fabric of it. David “Super Dave” Beltzhoover was in that number.

A resident for more than 20 years, he would wake up every day, play beach volleyball and then show up at exactly 2 p.m. for his shift at a parking lot behind Rita’s Seaside Grill, always with a huge smile on his face and donning a Folly Beach T-shirt, his personal preferred uniform.

“He loved welcoming people and being an ambassador of Folly,” said his daughter Hailee Zuniga, with whom he was very close. “He worked seven days a week. It’s what he loved to do and that filled his life. He was a very simple man. He had fifty Folly Beach T-shirts, lived in a rented house and had a little old golf cart.”

Hailee recalls how her dad, originally from Pennsylvania, first moved to the area working in construction following a hurricane, rebuilding the Folly Beach community.

“Super Dave” first lived on James Island and eventually moved into an apartment on Folly Beach behind the Circle K and then into an apartment on East Ashley Avenue and thrived as a parking lot attendant.

Hailee visited her dad every summer since she was eight years old on Folly Beach, staying at the Folliday Inn hotel on West Ashley Avenue.

Her next trip to Folly Beach is a heartbreaking turn of events: it will be to attend a community event celebrating the life and legacy of her dad, who tragically died in late April at age 61 following a fire at his apartment.

“This was the most horrible thing that could ever happen ever in my life,” Hailee said.

The tragic loss left a huge hole in the Folly Beach community among those who knew Super Dave and shared a smile with him on a daily basis. Memorials were left at his home: photos, flowers, tributes to his favorite NFL team, the Chicago Bears, and even his preferred beverages that got him through his shifts—yellow Gatorade and Circle K coffee.

“He just knew everybody on Folly, he couldn’t go into a place without someone saying, ‘Hey, Dave,’” Hailee said.

The official name for the community event, slated for Sept. 7 in the Rita’s Seaside Grille parking lot, is “Super Dave’s Parking Lot Bash, Honey” and there will be BBQ, stories swapped and music by the Shakin’ Martinis.

“He loved meeting people; he called everyone ‘honey,’” Hailee said.

From 12-4 p.m., the community is welcome to come celebrate and honor the life of a true Folly Beach personality who lived life with wholehearted enthusiasm. There will be sweet treats and printed photos from throughout Super Dave’s life.

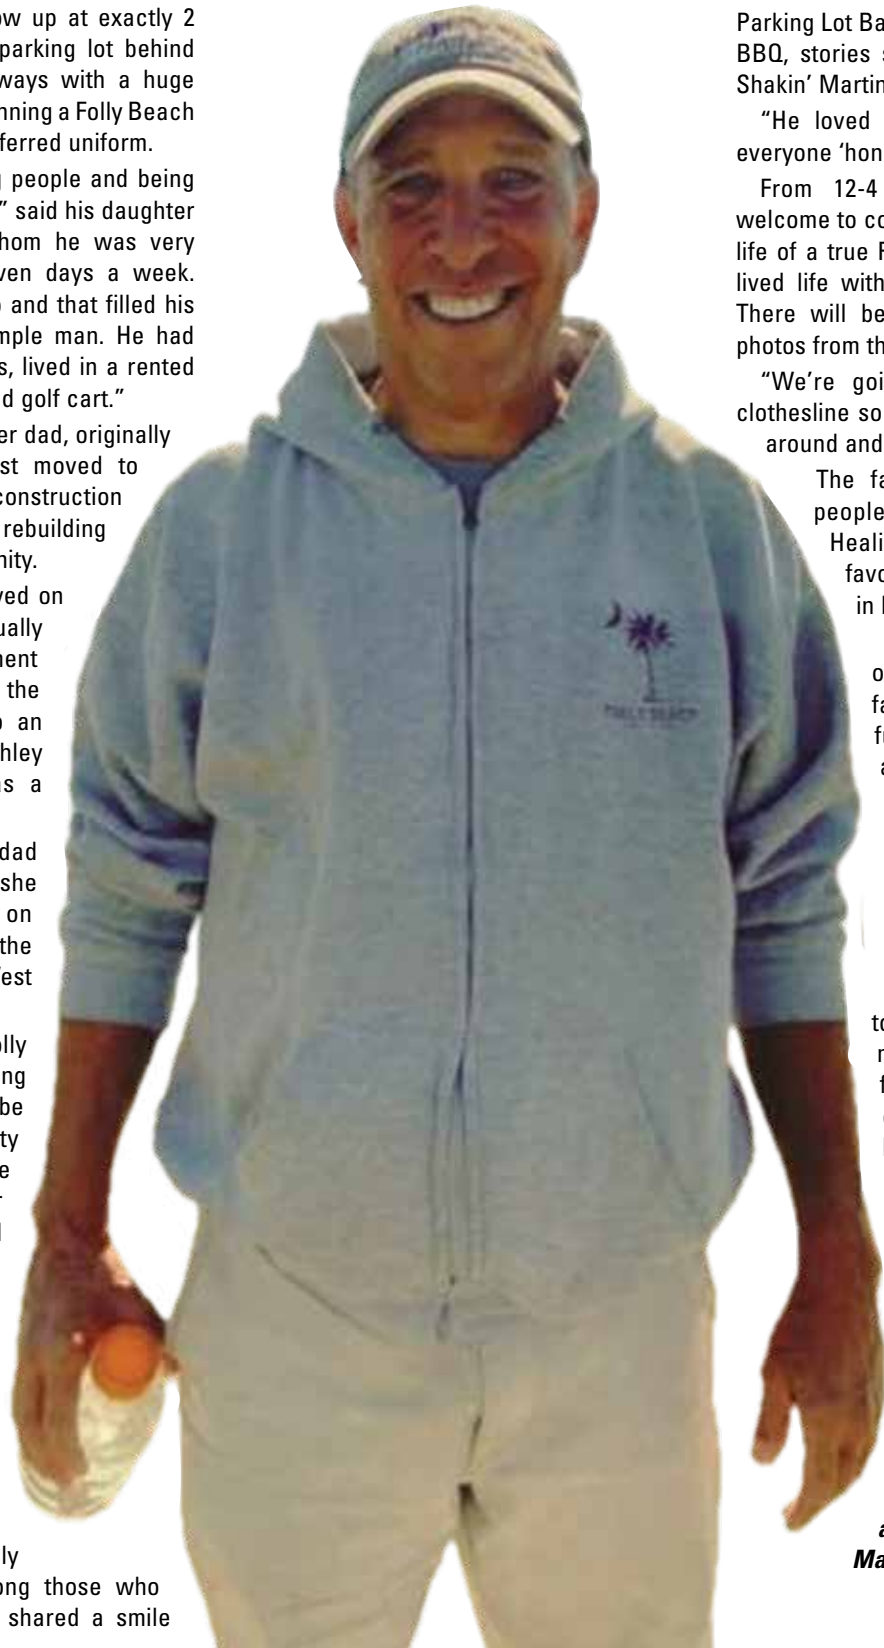

“We’re going to hang photos on a clothesline so people will be able to walk around and see his life,” Hailee said.

The family is working on ways people can donate to Surfers Healing, one of Super Dave’s favorite non-profit organizations, in his honor.

Hailee said the outpouring of love and support for the family following the tragedy further cemented Folly Beach as the supportive and close-knit community her father loved so deeply.

“When we came down there, people and restaurants brought food to our house. I was distraught, and people just kept coming to where I was sitting outside my dad’s house, bringing flowers and putting a hand on me and saying, ‘We love you,’” Hailee recalls. “Nobody let me feel alone the whole time. It was magical.”

“Super Dave’s Parking Lot Bash, Honey” will be held in the parking lot behind Rita’s Seaside Grill on Saturday, Sept. 7 from 12-4 p.m. There will be BBQ a beer truck and music with The Shakin’ Martinis from 12:30 -3:30 p.m.

him asking for a ride off the island and the man provided the ride and dropped him off near the bridge near Crosby's Seafood. As of July 31, the suspect was still at large and multiple arrest warrants were issued, including assault-first-degree, resisting arrest, public intoxication. The small dog was placed in the Folly Beach public safety kennel. According to Charleston County arrest records, the 31-year-old man was booked on August 7. Arrest records show the 43-year old woman was additionally charged on August 15 with interference and hindering officers and giving false information to police.

August 1

LOITERING

Officers were on patrol on Center Street around 6 a.m. after a business owner said employees found subject sleeping on the back patio. Officers located as a subject sleeping on a bench and woke the subject up and asked him what he was doing. The man said he worked for a nearby restaurant and spoke very little English and Google translate was used to communicate. The man said he did not have any identification. He was arrested for loitering.

August 2

ASSAULT

Around 7:30 p.m. officers were called to the Folly Beach Pier about an assault that occurred between two males. Officers located the victim who said he was sitting underneath the pier at a table reading a book when an unknown male approached him and punched him in the face. The victim had a small laceration above his eyebrow. He said he had never seen the man before and gave officers a description of what he was wearing. The suspect, a 42-year-old Ohio man matching the description, approached officers and asked if they were looking for him. When officers asked him what happened, the suspect said the victim "showed him the business." It is unclear what that means. He was arrested for assault.

August 8

THEFT

A couple walked into Folly Beach headquarters and said they hired a dogsitter from a next door app, a woman who agreed to stay at the home. There were multiple cameras of the interior and exterior of the home. The homeowners noticed that the woman left for several hours on end leaving the dog alone, which prompted the homeowner to text her and ask where she was. After several exchanges and ignored messages, the homeowners told the sitter they no longer requested her services and to leave the property. Camera footage showed the dog sitter returning to the residence and the homeowners asked a neighbor to go over and ask the sitter to leave. The neighbor said the woman's boyfriend was inside the master bedroom. The homeowners said the sitter left a number of clothing and make up items behind and they were missing a bottle of oxycodone and hydrocodone and an heirloom nightgown had been taken from the bedroom closet.

August 10

ANIMAL CRUELTY

Officers issued a citation to a woman who left her dog inside of her vehicle with no A/C running and the windows cracked halfway down. A concerned citizen called in the situation and said the woman left her dog in the car to go surf. Officers arrived at 9:30 a.m. and noted the temperature was 84° with a heat index of 94°. Officers removed the dog from the vehicle and transported it to public safety headquarters and left a business card for the owner. An hour later, a woman called to say she was on her way to get her dog. She was cited for animal cruelty.

August 10

DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Officers arrested a 53-year-old woman for disorderly conduct after several concerned bar patrons said the woman was acting erratically, possibly intoxicated and attempting to drive. Officers found the woman, who had a cat with her, matching the description who appeared to be intoxicated and got very upset and confrontational with officers. She told officers she was "just a crazy white woman" going through a tragic life event and was going to her friend's house. She then said her friend lived on a sailboat "down yonder," but would not give officers the exact location. She was arrested and the cat was taken to the Folly Beach kennel.

August 15

POINTING A PISTOL

A man reported that around 12:30 p.m., he noticed a vehicle heading onto Folly Beach that was swerving into the opposite lane on Folly Road. When the concerned citizen pulled up next to the vehicle to get the driver's attention and "throw his hands up at him," he said the driver, approximately 80 years of age, pulled out a handgun and presented it at him through the vehicle. The citizen said the driver then pulled behind his vehicle and proceeded to follow too closely, waving the pistol in the air for him to see. Officers patrolled the area and found a vehicle matching the description at a residence and found the registered owner, an 84 year-old man who has no prior criminal history. The case is ongoing.

August 19

INFORMATION

A woman reported that around 6 p.m. she was walking on East Ashley Ave. when males from a vehicle threw an empty beer box at her, striking her on the side of the head. The woman said that before striking her, a vehicle passed her then slowed down and the occupants asked her if she wanted a ride and when she said no, the suspects cursed at her and threw the empty box at her. It was noted that the woman was highly intoxicated and had been involved in an earlier, separate incident report that day, but had been cleared.

August 19

ASSAULT

Officers were dispatched to an area following reports of two groups fighting. Officers met with three men who were standing in the driveway of a home. The group told officers that they were walking down the street when a vehicle with several suspects pulled up to them and started a verbal dispute and one of the men mentioned they wanted to fight, causing them to stop their vehicle. All the suspects got out of the vehicle and started getting aggressive, and the parties continued to have a verbal dispute. An officer and one of the men on foot got jumped by several men and had several abrasions on his back and shoulder and a laceration on his nose. There was cell phone footage of part of the altercation. Officers canvassed the area circular the area for any vehicle that matched the description. The vehicle (identified by the license plate) was last seen heading off the island.

Ahoy, Mermaids & Mateys

Tourist season comes to a close and festival season begins on Folly

by Lorne Chambers | Editor

Two years ago, the Folly Association of Business (FAB) set out to create a family-friendly festival around Labor Day to celebrate the end of the tourist season and head into fall. The creation of the first-ever Mermaids & Mateys Festival in 2022 was a huge success, with food and drinks, arts and crafts, fashion vendors, live music on multiple stages, a huge kids area, and a costume contest. However, last year's Mermaids & Mateys was shelved because of all the Folly's 50th Birthday celebrations. But this month, it returns with even more activities and fun for the whole family over the course of two days.

The festivities start at 10 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 28, known as "Salty Saturday," which the closure of Center Street, which will be lined with food and craft vendors. (The streets will close at 7 a.m. and reopen at 6 p.m. but are open to the public from 10 a.m. – 4 p.m.). There will be live music on three stages (Main stage, Erie stage, and Huron stage) with Longshot Gamble, Southbound 17 Fancy Koolaid, and Kevin West. FAB event coordinator Kelly Travers says the main afternoon act remains a surprise, but she promises it's a new and exciting group. Additionally, the street festival will include a costume contest and a dunk tank. Plus, a "Loot Route" scavenger hunt, including cocktails, secret finds around Folly, and more.

"You will see a mix of celebrating our seaside culture while also mixing in some fall/spooky vibes for our guests," says Travers. "We are excited to introduce a bulked-up crew of mermaids and mateys! They will be available for brunch, to greet guests, etc. There will be an awesome Instagram-worthy photo area. So, get ready for some new fun twists for this street closure!"

The fun continues on Sunday, Sept. 29 with the sand sculpting competition, which was moved from Sea & Sand to Mermaids & Mateys because of the beach renourishment project. The sand sculpting will take place from 11 a.m.-2:30 p.m. in front of Tides. hotel

Travers says her favorite part of the festival is seeing everyone embracing the theme of this event. "We will see mermaids and mateys of all ages out having fun and celebrating our transition into fall," she says. "Also, we're excited to be donating a portion of our proceeds to the Charleston Alzheimer's walk."

Mermaids and Mateys will be held Sept. 28-29. Admission is free for Folly residents with ID and $10 in advance, $15 at the door for non-residents. Kids 12 and under are free. No pets, no coolers, no cash. For more information, buy tickets, or sign up for the costume contest or sand sculpture competition, visit www.visitfolly.com/mermaids-mateys-event.

The Folly Association of Business hopes everyone will join us for Mermaids and Mateys, a weekend full of fun as we celebrate our love of the sea. On September 28 from 10am-4pm, Center Street will be closed for "Salty Saturday" and taken over by Folly establishments and local vendors! Complemented by local bands, 70+ Folly art, craft, and fashion vendors, a dunk tank, and a robust kid area, Mermaids & Mateys will have something for everyone. This is a cashless event. No animals allowed.

What's an event without some competition? Mermaids and Mateys will also feature a costume contest for families and adults. Dress up as a Mermaid, Matey, or your favorite Under the Sea character! Prizes to be awarded!

Center Street will close Saturday at 7am and reopen at 6pm. As always, Folly residents with valid driver's licenses are free.

Keep the fun going into Sunday, September 29 with a sand-sculpting competition, taking place on the beach behind the Tides Hotel from 11am-2:30pm.

It's good, clean fun for residents and visitors alike, courtesy of your business community and FAB.

Tickets available at VisitFolly.com.

Slow Food Celebrates 20 Years at Bowen's Island

Mark your calendars for a seaside celebration at Bowen's Island on Sunday, November 3rd from 2-5pm, as Slow Food Charleston celebrates two decades of promoting Good, Clean, and Fair food for all in the Holy City. This event is the grand finale of the weekend-long Slow Fish conference. Experience Charleston's rich seafood heritage with a special showcase featuring local fishmongers, harvesters, and chefs. Join Slow Food Charleston with Slow Fish North America and Slow Food USA for a free, family friendly day of seafood tastings with top chefs, fishing and gear demos, activations with community partners, hands on workshops and fun in the sun at beautiful Bowens Island! The bounty of seafood will be available for purchase, and while the event is free to attend, there will be paid parking available, so you are encouraged to carpool.

For more information about Slow Food Charleston, visit www.slowfoodcharleston.org. Bowen's Island is located at 1870 Bowens Island Road.

Loggerhead's /s Football on Folly

September brings us football and Loggerhead's /s football on Folly. Get ready to catch every play on their indoor and outdoor flat screens while you chow down on a brand new game day menu. Enjoy some of your favorites like Ed's famous meatball subs and the buffalo chicken dip as well as some fresh ideas like crab rangoon fries. This crab dip is served with scallions, sweet Thai chili and the crispy wonton strips are the just-right vessel for dipping! Wash it down with some Team Spirits like the Bloody Maria – Los Sundays jalapeño tequila, Charleston fresh & veggie Bloody Mary mix, & Tajin rim or the Jalen Juice in a 32oz souvenir bucket. Of course there's the Loggerhead Lager available in a pitcher, along with your usuals on draft.

Loggerhead's Beach Grill is located at 123 W. Ashley Ave.

The Latest Update on Jack of Cups Trading Post, taken from their Instagram:

This journey has turned us upside down and over again. It has tested us and taught us the biggest of ways. Alligator tears, bodyaches and heartaches aplenty. BUT. Forward is the only path, and we are pushing closer each day. For all those asking for updates, thank you so much for caring!! We're finally in the realm of getting excited!! Not stating an exact date just yet, but, that's coming. We were superstitious before, but now, well, I don't even wanna say it.

This place is being built with such love and heart. We can't wait to share it with you; hope you'll feel it as soon as you walk in ❤️❤️❤️ Follow us @jackofcupstradingpost or keep tabs on our stories right here for progress, sneak peeks and info!

We're rooting for ya' JOC team!!

Cooler Days Ahead

Indicators of fall appear as summer's end approaches

Cooler than expected air met the dogs and me at the back door this morning. Apparently, a cold front passed last night.

I sat on the back steps and watched the dogs smell new scents from last night's activity. This maritime forest of a backyard provides habitat for raccoons, rats, squirrels, and a variety of birds, reptiles, and insects.

Grace coursed through the yard, methodically checking each spot where lizards, rats, or squirrels had once been seen or almost caught. She checked the hole in the tree, the base of the red honeysuckle at the power pole, then behind the beehives.

Finally, she squatted to urinate. Zeke waited until she finished, then, as per his new ritual, he urinated in the same spot.

I enjoyed this departure from the heat, humidity, and swarming mosquitos common on most late summer mornings on Folly Beach.

With cool air came northeasterly gusts, causing palmetto fronds to rattle in spasms. I heard a school bus pass on Cooper Street heading east.

The final weekly visitors have gone home for the work season. Once again, the beach passes hands from those who visit to those who live here.

After completing their backyard morning checklist, Zeke and Grace move inside for the next scheduled event, food time. I poured my tea and sat quietly.

Indicators of fall appear as summer's end approached. Afternoon shadows begin to grow a different direction. Days become shorter. Fall's north wind brings the lonely clang of sailboat halyards against bare masts.

By late October, sweaters emerge from bottom drawers. Air conditioning gives way to open windows. Oysters get harvested. By November, a wood-stove fire breaks the morning chill. Winter's cozy blanket comforts us as we wait for the next summer.

As a youth, nothing felt more glorious than walking out through the school doors for summer break. After that, each summer day, long, hot, and magnificent, started and ended like the day before. Weekdays and weekends blurred together.

In the distance, looking down into the tunnel of winter and through to the other side, I catch a glimpse of those school doors, ready to open onto another glorious summer.

Anton DuMars, a longtime Folly resident and coastal geologist, welcomes the cooler weather, but braces against shorter days. Contact Anton at saltmarshdiaries@gmail.com. To buy his book, visit saltmarshdiaries.com.

Conditions are Ideal for Great Fishing in September

by Captain Geoff Bennett
Charleston Charter Fishing

With an ideal set of conditions in place, anglers can be sure that inshore fishing will really pick up in September. The combination of lots of bait, cooler water temperatures and less traffic on the water should make for awesome fishing. While a lot of people will turn their focus to hunting and football, fishermen who save some time for casting a line will be well rewarded.

During this time of year, redfish will begin to increasingly take artificial baits. Plastic lures that mimic the bait fish in our waters are very effective. Zman's 3 3/4-inch Streakz in smokey shad is a great choice. I pair this lure with a 1/8-ounce jighead but conditions may call for a heavier weight. Make sure to change your rate of retrieve as you fish a spot. Sometimes just slowing down or speeding up the pace of the lure can make the bite come to life.

Even with artificials becoming more effective, keep throwing those popping corks. Mud minnows, live shrimp and artificial shrimp have been working well when suspended about 18"-24" below the cork. Trout and redfish alike will eat these baits as they pass by suspended in the water column. Corks have been working best fished over shell rake and along grassy banks at mid and high tide.

It's not uncommon to catch bull redfish (36" inches plus) during the summer time at the jetties or at nearshore reefs. During the fall, these big fish come into the harbor and inlets as they track down large mullet and menhaden. Rods rigged for these fish will have heavy test braided line connected to a 50-60lb. leader and 7/0 circle hooks. Fresh chunks of mullet, menhaden or smaller fish are effective baits. Target spots where there are marked changes in depth and wait for your rod to rip over!

See you on the water!

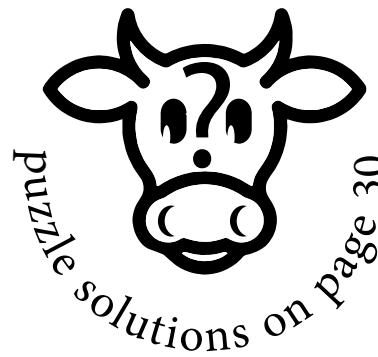

Since 2009, Capt. Geoff Bennett has operated Charleston Charter Fishing providing light tackle charters. Clients choose from a full menu of artificial and live bait fishing options with charters tailored to their desires. USCG licensed and insured, Capt. Bennett is committed to providing a safe and enjoyable charter to anglers of all skill levels and ages. For more information, call Capt. Bennett at (843) 324-3332, visit his website at www.charlestoncharterfishing.com.

Folly Association of Business's Litter Buster of the Month

Folly Beach (Beach) Patrol | 106 West Cooper Ave.

Each Folly Beach Department of Public Safety Beach Patrol Officers (BPO) consistently holds themselves and each other accountable for their performance and behavior by not excepting below average performance. Each BPO has a positive attitude and supports all policies whether or not popular with the public (for example enforcing city ordinances or giving information about Folly and surrounding areas), which demonstrates exceptional responsibility and sound moral character. Each BPO can always be counted on to get the job done, because they give each task 100 percent which ends with exceptional results (for example the removing of 100lbs of trash and debris, also filling in multiple illegally dug holes for safety every day). You would never know this is a part-time job. Each BPO loves and appreciates working the beach and helping each beach goer have the best day they can.

— Corporal Robert Wheat, Marine Unit Commander of Folly Beach Dept. of Public Safety

FAB's Litter Committee is made up of Folly Beach business owners who volunteer their time to help devise solutions to litter-related problems both on the beach and within the business district. This committee collaborates with city entities and the Folly Green Team on actionable strategies to address these problems. They also help fund the signage that the Green Team places at beach walkovers to remind visitors to dispose of litter properly. As our mascot Toby the Turtle says, "Don't Trash Where We Splash!" If you would like to sponsor a walkover, please email Vanessa at jvolt243@gmail.com.

BARKLEY

Meet Barkley, a spirited, vivacious canine who calls our shelter home. His energy knows no bounds, as he's always ready for a game of fetch or a fun puzzle toy. Barkley's curiosity is infectious, often leading him on exciting adventures. His playful demeanor and boundless curiosity make every day an adventure. This brave soul is seeking a family who will match his zest for life and provide him with endless games, love, and companionship.

SUNNY

Meet Sunny, a feline resident of our shelter. Sunny's disposition truly lives up to her name. She's a sweet, loyal companion who adores the company of humans. Her friendly nature is irresistible, making everyone she meets feel special. Sunny's curiosity is endearing, always ready to explore new toys or games. Her goofiness and humor brighten up any room, and her playful antics are sure to bring a smile to your face. Adopt Sunny to experience her unwavering loyalty, sweetness, and her unique ability to turn ordinary moments into extraordinary ones.
